LOCAL MATTERS.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES-Sept. 4, 1878. For the middle Atlantic States colder, partly cloudy weather and cocasional raio, variable winds, stationary or higher pressure.

THE STORM .- There was a very violent rain storm last night, accompanied by lightning and thunder. The fall of rain was very heavy, and the flashes of lightning and peals of thunder the most terrific that have been seen and heard here for a long time past. The attendants on the excursion of the Knights Templars, at Marshall Hall, were driven from the pavillion by the storm and forced to take shelter on the boat. The boat, although made fast to the wharf, was rocked so violently by the waves, that, notwithstanding there was no danger, two of the ladies of the party fainted. No damage was sustained, however, and the excursionists arrived safely at home. Reports from the surrounding country represent the storm

RAILROAD ACCIDENT. - Last pight's rain washed out a culvert near Telegraph Station, on the A. & F. Railway, and the Richmond train which left here at 3.10 o'clock this morning ran into the wash. The engine and several cars were precipitated into the chasm and badly smashed, and several persons were hurt. The only names so far reported are those of Mr. Rulman, the engineer, who was slightly injured and Mr. Germond, the fireman, a resident of this city, who was seriously, and, it is feared, fatally wounded. The tender of the engine telescoped the express and baggage cars. News from the scene of the accident, as usual on this road, is very meagre and these are all the particulars which have been gathered so far.

HYDRAULION FIRE Co.-The regular mouthly meeting of the Hydraulion S. F. E. Co. was held last night, with R. L. Carno in the chair and John Lannon secretary.

One alarm was reported during the past month, and one person nominated for active membership.

On motion of John Lannon the thanks of the company were tendered to the engineer and driver for the fathful performance of their duties during the past year, and they were recommended to the Fire Wardens for re election. The meeting then adjourced.

THE STEAMER LOUISE .- No change has taken place in the condition of the steamer Louiso since yesterday. The Washington Republican says that a regular river pilot was expecied to go down on the Louise, and was on the boat a short time before sailing, and his absence was not known until after passing Alexandria. The regular pilot was formerly on the river, but had not made the trip since the Upper Cedar Point light had been changed to Matthias' Point, about a year ago. Capt. Davis, of this city, the pilot alluded to, denies that any agreement was made for him to go down.

The embezzlement cases against him are ver to be tried, but will, in all probability, be continued until the next term. The Fredericksburg jury returned home last night.

> THE FAIR .-- The work of erecting the build ings and stalls at the Agricultural Fair grounds is rapidly approaching completion. As will be seen by the notice in another column the directors are actively at work and doing all that they can to make the Fair a success. In this they confidently expect the earnest cooperation of the citizens generally. The comfort of all will be provided for and a large attendance is expected.

> POLICE ITEMS .-- There were no cases at the Mayor's office this morning. Georgeanna Nelson was brought before Justice Padgett, on complaint of Jennie Nelson, both colored, for disorderly conduct and assault, and was made to pay the costs.

Jennie Nelson was afterwards arrested by order of Justice Lovejoy and also required to pay costs.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES .- James Leavell, the colored man who was run over while attempting to jump on a train on Wilkes street, near Pitt, on Saturday last, as noticed in the Gazette of that date, died at his home on north Pitt street yesterday evening. He was so badly mashed and so thoroughly shocked by the ac-oident that nothing could be done for him.

MIKE GREEN'S VICTIM. - Miss Alice Sweeney, the victim of the outrage in Prince George's county, for which Green was lynched on Sunday last, is reported to be lying at her residence in a critical condition from the effects of the brutal treatment received at the hands of her assailant.

YELLOW FEVER .- The report of a case of yellow fever having been developed in this city is entirely incorrect. The lady, who it was claimed had been stricken, is enjoying excellent health, and the source of the rumor cannot be sale at lowest market rates.

ascertained. MUTINY .- A report was received here this morning of a mutiny on board a schooner at Piney Point. The name of the schooner was that the captain had shot one of the mutineers. PERSONAL.-Rev. Dr. Sprigg, rector of Graco Church, expects to return to this city during the present week and will hold services in his church next Sunday. PROPOSALS.

DANVILLE, VA., Sept. 4.-The city yesterreduced majority. In one of the Congression: | day was ablaze of Confederate and State flags, mingled with mottoes of welcome and pictures, and names of distinguished Southern leaders, the occasion being the unveiling and dedication of the monument lately erected to the Confede-Memorial Association. The procession was a Thes. S. Flournoy. Capt. Wise's address contained only one political allusion, and that was in denunciation of the Confederates who have referred to it as the memorial which came from the late enemies sleeping in the National Cemetery, on the adjoining hill, among whose spirits the figure of Meade or of Kearney rode in peace. The national colors appeared intermingled with the battle flags of the South, and the day was a grand holiday, especially with the colored people.

To the south of the Bengali, en the Madras border, comes the Ooriya, or language of Orissa, not of wide extension, though spoken by three millions of people, who are industrious and orderly, but who never acquired a promi-nent position in Indian history.

The most southern of what may be called the northern division of languages is the Mahratti, side of India is the Guzerathi, the original tongue used on the Guxerat peninsual to which also belong two subordinate dialects, the Kutchi the "learned commentator" X; and if I can and Sindi, spoken in Kutch and Sind. Then there are the Punjaubi and Pushtoo spoken in the country of the Five Rivers and in Afghanistan, and which are included among the northern

> Among the southern languages the first is the Teloogoo or Telings, so rough in pronuncia-tion that a traveler of the nation, speaking it before a ruler of Bokhara, admitted that its sound resembled the tossing of a lot of pebbles in a sack. It bears no resemblance in sound or structure, beyond it Sanscrit ingredient, to any of the northern languages; but the people speaking it, called Gentoos, number some eight millions of souls. South of them, again, comes the Tamil, of simple structure, and one of the most polished and copious of the Indian forms of

Its range extends to the extreme southern promontory of India, and embraces both the western and eastern coasts. Along the western coast, where the Tamil ceases and the Konkani alum is spoken, which is a good deal intermixed with the Tamil. The name of this language, which is also that of the people using it, is the word corrupted into the better known Malabar. The next great language of Southern India is the Kanarese, lying between the mountainous ranges known as the Ghauts.

The last three tongues are spoken by some sixteen or seventeen millions of people. Burmah, Assam, Arracan, Tennasserim and Pegu have each their own written language. All the southern, have their own peculiar alphabets, agreeing with that in which Sanskrit is usually written only in phonetic classification. Within Mr. Henry J. Heath, an English gontleman, thirty indigenous sets of speech, but besides British India there are probably not fewer than
